Cohen's Lottery & Exchange Office.

HOC SIGNO FORTUNA.

BALTIMORE, FRIDAY, April 26, 1822.

The premium of ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS, yesterday afternoon in the Monument Lottery, was awarded agreeably to the Scheme to No. 17718, it being the first drawn. This ticket was divided in Shares at COHEN'S OFFICE, and we have much pleasure in stating that two quarters of it are held by distant adventurers, one residing in Fredericksburg, Va., the other at Frederick-town, Md. The remaining One Half is owned by a gentleman in this city. All the shares were sold within the last three weeks.

There were no other prizes drawn yesterday higher than Fifty Dollars. Our friends at a distance however, came in, as usual, for a full share, most of the prizes having been sent from this office by mail to various parts of the union viz. To Perkinsonville and to Fairfield in Virginia; Raleigh and Windsor in North Carolina, and Lexington in Georgia. We anticipate the distribution amongst our distant customers, of more valuable favours of Fortune during the course of the drawings.

The sixteenth Drawing!

Adventurers residing at a distance who have not yet completed their investments, are reminded that agreeably to the scheme, the first No. on the 16th drawing, will be entitled to Ten Thousand Dollars, and we would advise them to send on their orders as soon as possible, to prevent being disappointed, as the tickets will no doubt become scarce, and consequently be advanced in price, especially if the great floating prizes remain much longer undrawn. The present rate is only Twelve Dollars for whole tickets, and shares in the same proportion. Direct all orders to

J. I. COHEN, JR.

Secretary to the Managers—Baltimore.

Situation of the Scheme.

Ten drawings of the Monument Lottery are now over, and the Scheme is one fourth completed; the state of the wheel is published on the opposite page, and is highly favorable to adventurers, whose chance has very considerably improved in consequence of the few prizes heretofore out, although Five Thousand Numbers have been drawn. The gain of the wheel during the two last days is upwards of Three Thousand Dollars! The drawing will be continued again on Thursday next, and also on the Thursday following when the first No. from the wheel will be entitled to ONE THOUSAND DOLLARS.

From Smyrna.—The brig Midas, Capt. Dickerson arrived at this port on Thursday last from Smyrna.—A squadron of observation was lying at Smyrna when the M. sailed, consisting of nine sail of French, three English, and five Austrian—a Dutch frigate had sailed a few days before for Mahon, but was to return. The presence of such a formidable force tended to keep the Turks in awe, and afforded great protection to the Franks and the resident European merchants. The Turkish fleet of about sixty sail, including transports, had come out from Constantinople, and were seen off Morea the beginning of February. The Grecian fleet were lying in different ports of the Archipelago, refitting. No satisfactory news of war between Russia and the Porte had been received at Smyrna.

From the Washington Gazette of Saturday.

The committee on retrenchment have reported again in part, recommending as a commencement of national economy to set the example of beginning by Congress, and to reduce the per diem and mileage allowances to the old standard of six dollars per day;

they also recommend a correspondent reduction of the salaries of the legislative clerks, &c. which, it is calculated for the 17th congress, would amount to a saving at the yearly rate of $90,000, and thereafter it would probably extend to the amount of $100,000, per annum added to which, if the other branches of the government, were pared down on a similar plan of reduction would form no inconsiderable sum in the current expenditures of the nation.

A Commercial Circular, from the house of Messrs. Maury, Latham & Co. of Liverpool, dated Feb. 28, has the following paragraph:

"Among other important measures respecting Foreign Trade to be brought before Parliament, it is reported (and from a source upon which we place some reliance, though nothing official has been received,) that a bill will be brought into the House, for the purpose of opening a direct intercourse between the United States and the West Indies, upon terms of reciprocity."

Latest Foreign Intelligence

By the ship Parthian arrived at Boston from Liverpool, London papers to the 21st March have been received.—In France there appears every indication of another Revolution—universal discontent prevailed throughout the country.—Complaints were pouring in from all quarters; reiterated attempts were making to oppose the constituted authorities; and if private letters are to be credited, a revolution had already broken out in the interior, headed by General Benton, who is stated to have assembled a considerable force in opposition to the government, and to have issued a proclamation containing sentiments hostile to the Bourbon family, and recommending their expulsion. A similar feeling is stated to be spreading throughout the departments, where Napoleon II. is said to have been proclaimed as the rightful sovereign. Disturbances are even said to have taken place among the law students in Paris, and the cries of "Vive le Roi," and "Rien que la Charte," heard among the contending parties. It was necessary to call out the Gen d'arms before these commotions were suppressed.

That France is at present in a very convulsed state there is no doubt. The British government had received dispatches in great haste from Paris, which were considered of such great importance, that Lord Londonderry, who had just set down to dinner on learning their contents, instantly rose from the table and hastened apparently in great agitation to his office.

Great Britain.—The manufacturing and agricultural interests do not appear to be satisfied with the plans suggested by government for their relief, and are loud and unceasing in their demands for succour.

Riotous proceedings in Suffolk and Norfolk.—We are sorry to learn that the services of the yeomanry cavalry of this county have been put in requisition to aid the civil authorities in the suppression of acts of riot and mischief.

The indisposition of the Chancellor of the Exchequer prevented him from opening to the House of Commons on the 5th, his promised statement respecting the nature, character, and extent of the measures of retrenchment which have been adopted by his Majesty's Ministers. The Marquis of Londonderry apprised the House that on the next day they might expect to hear this important exposition, and postponed the Chancellor of the Exchequer's motion until that evening.

Notwithstanding the rumours of war, and of revolutions, and of insurrectionary movements, stocks at Paris and in London, appear to hold their ground. This, at least, is no proof of alarm on the part of the respective governments.

Ireland.—In Ireland the White Boys had somewhat abated their outrageous proceedings. "This diminution of crime," says the Courier, "is owing not to any abatement of their lawless spirit, but to the summary operation of the insurrection act. Aware that their apprehension is inevitable, if found abroad after a certain hour, they now keep in close ambush in the mountains, and only detach strong armed parties during the night to provide subsistence."

Miscellaneous Items.

The Literary Gazette of the 2d February, gives the following particulars of the hero of the new novel, entitled "The fortunes of Nigel," by the author of Waverley. He was the founder of Herriott's Hospital, one of the richest at Edinburgh. His name was George Herriot, and he was jeweler to King James IV.—Herriott was the son of a Goldsmith in Edinburgh; being bred to his father's business, he was appointed, in 1597, goldsmith to the Queen of James, and soon after constituted goldsmith and jeweller to the King himself, with a right to all the profits and emoluments of that lucrative office. Upon the accession of James to the English throne, Herriot followed the court to London. By assiduous attention to business, he had become eminent and rich. He furnished jewels to Prince Charles, afterwards Charles I. when he went to the court of Spain, in 1623. These jewels were never paid for by James; but when the Charles I. succeeded to the throne, the debt to Herriot was allowed to his trustees in part of their purchase money in the Barony of Broughton, then crown lands in the neighbourhood of Edinburgh. These lands are now part of the foundation of this hospital, for the maintenance, relief and bringing up of poor and fatherless boys, freemen's sons of the town of Edinburgh, the revenue of which is upwards of £5000, per annum, and is rapidly increasing.

CAUTION TO SPORTSMEN.

It should be generally known that atmospheric air, when suddenly compressed to a certain degree, becomes heated sufficiently to ignite gunpowder; and therefore, that in the act of loading a gun, the ball should be driven so slowly as to allow the escape of the air contained in the barrel. It is probable that almost all the accidental discharges of guns, which occur in the act of loading, arise from a sudden and violent compression of air.

Mr Elijah Sexton, jun. of Chenango, a short time since, while in the act of loading his rifle, experienced some difficulty from the elasticity of the air, in forcing down the ball; to overcome the difficulty he made a sudden and violent effort, by which his gun was instantly discharged, the lock remaining unaltered. One of his hands was severely lacerated, whilst the charge, including the ram-rod, was driven through the bones of the other wrist.

The great trotting match for 300 guineas, (three miles in ten minutes,) between the American blue horse, and a Mr. Williams', took place on the 18th February, at Sunbury Common, England. The former broke twice, and did not turn the second time; the latter broke once. The American horse came in ahead, but the race was decided in favour of Williams', —Bets two to one on the blue.

A man in the city of Philadelphia, who was formerly affluent, but who latterly maintained his family by selling almanacks and blacking balls, in consequence of misfortunes having fallen thick upon him, has after many years of suffering, succeeded to an estate said to be worth $400,000, by the death of a relation in the West Indies N. Y. D. Adv.

Thirty-six candidates graduated M. D. in the Transylvania University of Lexington, Kentucky.

"The Spy, a Tale of the Neutral Ground," in three volumes, is advertised for sale in the London papers.

The adjutant general of the state of New-York has made a return of the militia force of that state, which may be fairly rated in round numbers at 150,000, men.
